tonia, as administrator of the estate of the late R. E. Fowler, has brought suit against the Pennsylvania railroad company.The plaintiff in her petition, alleges that Fowler, who was her son, was struck by a Pennsylvania train at the Chestnut st. crossing in Leeonia on the night of July 23, and instantly killed.She further alleges that the crossing gates were defective, that it was raining and Fowler could not see any danger signals and that the engineer of the train failed to sound the whistle or bell of the locomotive as it nearly crossed.LAKE IMPEDES RESCUE OF BOATSt. Joseph, Mich., Sept. 22.—Although it is feared the 60-foot gasoline fruit packet Forelle, missing since Wednesday night had foundered with its crew of five men, search was continued today. Lake Michigan still was running high, hampering the search by fishermen and coast guard crews.Capt. Kincaid of the coast guard ex-the hotel kitchen six stories below.

He was dead when his body was picked up.

CHAIRMAN FOR NEW COLLEGE CAMPAIGNLocal Man Will Direct Fund Campaign For Carroll University.John McNicol, 125 Frankin ave. as local and regional chairman of the John Carroll university $3,000,000 foundation campaign has called a meeting of all the local chairmen of region six to be held in Youngstown Monday evening.Rev. Thomas J. Smith, president of the new John Carroll university, and James F. MacGrath, director general of the campaign, will address television. Father Smith will speak on the policy, plans and prospects of the new school in Cleveland, while Mr. MacGrath will outline plans of organization and progress made at the other meetings thus far.The campaign to raise $3,000,000 to build the first unit of John Carroll university will be conducted simultaneously throughout the 14 counties of Northeastern Ohio, composing the Cleveland Catholic diocese. The intensive solicitation period of the campaign will begin Oct. 14 continuing till Oct. 20.The founders of John Carroll university, which is an expansion of St.
Ignace college in Cleveland, had originally decided upon the name of Cleveland university, but according to President Smith they found the name was too limited in scope as in their pride of Cleveland they had overlooked the local pride of such centers as Youngstown, Canton, Akron, Ashtabula, Painesville, Lorain and Salem.For this reason it was decided that, inasmuch as the campaign was general in scope, and would appeal to Catholic and Non-Catholic alike, the school would be named for John Carroll, first bishop of the United States and a member of the famous family of Maryland, who counted in their numbers signers of the Declaration of Independence, framers of the constitution, commissioners and envoys of the Continental congress and at the same time, Charles Carroll of Carrollton, in conjunction with Alexander Hamilton, built the first national bank in America.

Name Seven Regions

The 14 counties comprising the Cleveland diocese have been broken up into several regions. The first region consists of Medina, Ashland and Lorain counties with Akron as regional Stark counties with Massillon as regional headquarters; the fourth, Lake and Geauga counties with Painesville ters; the sixth, Mahoning and Colum-biana counties with Youngstown as regional headquarters; and the seventh, Cuyahoga county with Cleveland as regional headquarters.Due to the proximity of Warren, Niles, Girard and Hubbard to Youngstown the workers from these cities will meet with the members of the sixth region Monday night.In an announcement from general headquarters, it is stated that President Smith and Mr. MacGrath are com-sage from Rt. Rev. Joseph Schrembs, bishop of the Cleveland diocese.At this meeting it is planned to perfect the regional organization and arrange for the appointment of list and parish committees; committee on parish co-operation, publicity committee and the selection of team captain and team workers.Klan Will Hear will again present this subject at the Washington, Sept. 22.—President late President Harding—that of con-to consolidate into regional systems.

Regional consolidation was the rem-

Roads Object

Various reasons are assigned for the abandonment of the proposal.1.—The strong opposition of most of the railroads themselves.2.—The even more strenuous opposition of the so-called La Follette group in the new congress, shared, too, by many of the more conserva-

BEING IMPROVED

Open Wednesday 8 y s County Engineer.Lisbon, Sept. 22.—Motorists likely will be compelled to use the four-mile detour between here and East Liverpool until the middle of next week, according to the county engineer's office, which received word today that the contracting firm C. W. Malar & Co. probably would not have the last stretch tarred and the road ready to open before that time.Rain held up the work on the highway and Friday the brick was too wet to lay tar until afternoon. At that time it was reported that there remained approximately three more days of work. Once finished, the road must be approved and accepted by the county engineer and probably inspected by the commissioners.Although the detour is in wretched condition the contractor declared that the new highway could not be opened even for emergency traffic.
The commissioners have upheld this view, asserting that no risks can be taken.Traffic over the Lincoln highway west of Lisbon for several days has been benefited by the completion of two miles of new highway beginning near Hanoverton. The present detour has been cut to four miles including a half mile of brick leading from the highway to the county infirmary.The Lisbon-Leonora rd. is not yet finished, although traffic is diverted over it during the county fair. The portion in Salem township, about two miles, is finished, however, and will be inspected between now and Wednesday by the township trustees. The county commissioners may also inspect the completed part at the same time. That part lying in Center township is not yet completed, the engineer's office reports.Half a mile of the Lisbon-Salem rd. beginning at the Salem line, has just been tarred under county supervision.
The road is now in much better condition.Although it had been expected that the Columbiana-Middleton rd. would be finished by Sept. 1, reports are that it will be fully 10 days more before the road is thrown open. This is a waterbound macadam highway beginning just outside of Columbiana, and extending for a little more than four miles south.By the end of September H. C. Armstrong, engaged in a four-mile improvement in Franklin township, expects to have his grading job completed. This contract, the first let in the township, will improve the road from Millport toward Summitville.SALEM DIVORCE ine Coleman from her husband, Charles M. Coleman, of East Liverpool Friday, on the grounds of extreme cruelty. The husband will pay the wife $10 alimony each week until further order of the court.The divorce action of Carrie P. Kerr against J. A. Kerr of Salem, was dismissed at the request of the plaintiff.An order was issued by Judge Moore in the case of Mona Baughman vs. Russell Baughman of Salem that the husband should pay alimony in the sum of $25 down and $7.50 per week until further orders from the court.Pinchot Inquires

While enroute to her home on Ellsworth st. shortly after nine o'clock held up as she was walking out Ellis-worth ave., near Seventh st., by a negro, said to be young.With the point of a gun pressing against her breast, the man demand-had no money or other valuables, the masked bandit asked if she was a married woman. Answering "yes," Mrs. Theiss was permitted to go, the thief releasing her of her hand as he had roughly grasped her when he confronted her.The young woman was near col-tance after being permitted to pass the negro followed her. When finally she made her escape, she stumbled into the McNeelan home and was later conveyed to her home in Mc-

The squirrel was placed on the scales

FATHER IS KILLED,

IN DOMESTIC ROWRoomer, Infuriated, Fires At

Escapes.Cumberland, Md., Sept. 22.—Police today were scouring the countryside east of this city, for Gabriel Roberts, of Detroit who shot and instantly killed William Edward Riley 58, and probably fatally injured his daughter, Bessie M. Riley, 37, at midnight last night at their home near this city.The trouble occurred when Miss Riley entered the kitchen, where Roberts was sitting, and asked him if he was going to bed. He said, "Get out, don't bother me," and picked up a large butcher knife from the table. Miss Riley went upstairs and told her father, who armed himself with a gun and ordered Roberts from the house.Roberts then went to his room, apparently to get his belongings.
He returned with a .32 calibre automatic. Mr. Riley was standing at the foot of the stairs. Roberts pointed the gun at him and fired once. The

GULBRANSEN The Player-Piano

Easy to Play Nationally Priced

When the purchase of a Player Piano is being considered probably the first thing you will want to know is, "How easily does it play?"

Did you ever try a Gulbransen?

The ease of pedaling is a thing which demonstrates itself at once.

It is not necessary to push hard and you must actually restrain your impulse to do so.

You can play a Gulbransen leisurely, irregularly, putting just the right expression and "feeling" into the music.

In spite of their easy action the pedals do not die away under your feet, nor tremble when you pedal slowly. You can bring out a crash in the music and next instant have it down to a mere whisper.

Don't you think you would like to learn more about a Player Piano that can be played with as much satisfaction and freedom from noticeable effort as is the case with the Gulbransen?

Let us demonstrate this instrument. You are under no obligation.

The price is very reasonable when you consider the real value of the piano.

CUT SOUGHT IN GASOLINE PRICE

Donahay Sounds Out Officials of Standard Oil Company.

LOWER IN NEARBY STATES

Governor Would Have Oil Officials Explain Why There Can Not Be Substantial Reductions in Ohio. Pomerene Would Not Curtail Federal Supreme Court's Power—New Bus Law Responsible For a Tangle.

Columbus, Sept. 22—Governor Donahay has requested the board of directors of the Standard Oil company to explain why gasoline prices are higher in Ohio than in neighboring states and why there can not be a "substantial reduction" in the Ohio retail gasoline prices. The governor stated in his letter that his inquiry is prompted by the fact that prices have been stabilized in states adjoining Ohio at rates several cents less than those prevailing in Ohio. "It would certainly appear that in the present situation there is a marked discrimination against the gasoline consumers of Ohio," said Mr. Donahay. "I am writing therefore to ask why there can not be a substantial reduction in the retail prices of gasoline in Ohio."

Price throughout the 10 middle western states in which the Standard Oil company of Indiana operates has been reduced to an average of 16 cents a gallon, the governor pointed out. As result of this cut, gasoline now sells in Chicago at 15.4 cents a gallon to the consumer at filling stations. Price is 16 cents in South Dakota, where the distributors assume various taxes, including a 2-cent per gallon road tax and an inspection fee. He also pointed out that freight rates and transportation costs to Ohio are in many instances considerably lower than transportation charges in western states, which pay a lower price for gasoline.

The governor continues: "In the oil situation, as in any commodity market, ordinary laws of supply and demand must operate. If at the present moment surplus production of crude oil, with resultant fall in prices of refined gasoline, dominates the national position, protection of the public presupposes sharing of the benefits of a depressed market with the retail consumer. It can not be unreasonably expected that gasoline prices should be lower in the months of falling demand, the peak of consumption having been passed some weeks ago."

Donahay explained that he did not expect prices in Ohio cut below production costs and that it "is in no spirit of captious criticism" that he is asking for an explanation why Ohioans have to pay more for gasoline than do their neighbors. He made it clear, however, that he believes the public entitled to know why the difference in prices exists, and, furthermore, if there is no good reason for this difference, that Ohio should be given price reductions corresponding to those made in other states.

The governor, shortly after the price reduction was made in South Dakota, asked President Coolidge to have a federal investigation made of the oil situation. His request was turned over to the United States attorney general's department. At the same time Donahay asked Attorney General Crampton to investigate whether the big oil distributing companies in Ohio were violating the Valentine anti-trust act by price agreements which kept gasoline costs higher in this state.

Whether Ohio national guardsmen, the city of Massillon or Stark county will be called on to police the community of Columbia Heights will depend on a ruling asked of Attorney General Crampton by County Prosecutor C. B. McClintock. Columbia Heights is a steel workers' settlement just outside the corporate limits of Massillon. Attempts by Massillon to have the Heights annexed to the city frequently have been blocked by the steel company heads employing the men. It is alleged, Sheriff W. C. Kirk says that the county is without funds to provide for proper patrolling of the district. Massillon police officials insist that they have no authority to take charge of the situation. This leaves the community without police protection and lawlessness has gone unchecked for the past several years, it is said.

At the Pomerene, former United States senator from Ohio, speaking to the City Club's forum in Cleveland, sharply criticized those who advocate curtailment of the United States supreme court's power.

He declared that to take from the court the power to rule an act of congress unconstitutional would be to place supreme power in the hands of the congressmen, "a large number of whom never looked in a law book and wouldn't recognize the constitution of the United States if the words 'United States' were stricken out." of the supreme court judges to rule upon an act of congress instead of the five to four rule that now prevails, apparently have more confidence in the minority than in the majority. Let us make haste slowly whenever we talk about changing the constitution so as to deprive the supreme court of its power. I'd rather trust to the judgment of the United States courts than to the judgment of congress, and if the people will consider they will not consent to deprive the supreme court of the power with which it is clothed.

"I am old-fashioned enough," declared Mr. Pomerene, "to believe that our government is the best on earth. I would not change it unless there arose a grave necessity for so doing. Our few amendments to the constitution are evidence that in the main the American people are pretty well satisfied with the form of government devised by their forefathers."

When Ohio State university resumes its regular course next month its faculty of 600 as listed in the latest directory will include graduates of 135 colleges and universities in all parts of the world.

Sixty-three members of the faculty are included in "Who's Who." Of these 17 are alumni of the university. Scores of others are members of honorary scientific bodies.

In addition to 75 members of the faculty who have studied at foreign institutions, six colleges and universities abroad are represented. These are scattered in Canada, France, Germany, Switzerland and Denmark. Many other members of the teaching staff have studied independently abroad.

Colleges and universities in all parts of the United States are represented. Next to Ohio State university, the University of Michigan with 16 has the most alumni on the local faculty. Other institutions represented include the University of Wisconsin 11, Cornell University 11, University of Chicago 11, University of Illinois 12, Harvard nine, Ohio Wesleyan 14, Columbia six, Denison nine, and Princeton seven.

Ninety-eight members of the faculty have attained the degree of doctor of philosophy. Four others hold the degree of doctor of science. Scores of others possess master's degrees. Comparatively few have only one degree.

Seventy women are listed on the teaching staff. One Chinese and one Japanese also are included in the faculty.

Shortage of elementary teachers next year is looked for by the state department of education as a result of radical decreases in normal school enrollment, reported from all over the state.

Enrollment in county normal schools has dropped more than 50 per cent and practically every teacher training institution in the state has announced decreases, according to W. B. Bliss, assistant director of education.

"We have plenty of elementary teachers this year, but unless the normal school enrollment picks up there is more than a possibility of a shortage next year," Mr. Bliss said. Figures indicate there is opportunity awaiting those who wish to enter the teaching profession and the complaint, sometimes made, that there is no chance for newcomers is without foundation, he added.

There were 304 students examined for entrance to county normal school, and of these 59 failed, according to Mr. Bliss. He stated that several counties had not been heard from, and that the total enrollment probably would reach 900. Last year 1,700 students were enrolled in the same schools.

The Freeman-Collister bus law, from which the state expects to reap $1,000,000 revenue annually and which the utilities commission regards as its particular cross, is responsible for a legal tangle in Hardin county. A Red Star bus was involved in an accident in which one or more persons were injured. The company had filed an application with the utilities commission for a certificate to operate. With the application was filed a $30,000 insurance policy to indemnify it in case of accident. The certificate has not been issued and now lawyers for the injured persons are trying to convince the insurance company it is responsible for its policy, regardless of the fact no certificate has been issued.

At Cleveland 100 men and women have been selected to serve as an advisory board to the executive committee of the Citizens' league for the purpose of keeping a watchful eye over municipal and state legislation.

The league announces that it will urge election of qualified candidates for public offices regardless of political affiliations; will watch the proceedings of the city council; will keep in touch with county affairs; will maintain a bureau of legislative information during legislative sessions; will watch city, county and school budgets; will make investigation looking to the establishment of an "equitable system" of taxation in Ohio; will redraft the state election laws; will watch the administration of civil service laws and will analyze and report upon amendments, bond issues and other public questions that will be submitted to vote. The advisory board comprises men and women of practically every profession and Catholic and Protestant clergymen as well as Jewish rabbis.

WILL SEED WHEAT ON SAFE SCHEDULE

Ohio Farmers Will Delay Sowing Till Pest Has Starved.

With slight modifications, due to a gain of the Hessian fly in the wheat of certain Northeastern Ohio counties, the safe-seeding dates that have been followed by farmers during the past few years will be observed again this fall. County agricultural agents will announce locally the precise dates at which from observing the emergence of adult flies, it is deemed safe to seed wheat in the various counties.

These safe dates will run from about Sept. 20 in Ashtabula and Lake counties, on the Erie lakeshore, to Oct. 4, or later in the most southern of the river counties. The safe date in each county is immediately after the first brood of Hessian fly has emerged from buried flaxseeds in wheat or barley stubble, and sought young wheat to feed upon. The idea is to have no wheat there. If this is done the pest perishes within a few days.

Until it was found that by delayed sowing the Hessian fly could be starved out, this insect was wheat's worst enemy in Ohio. In 1920, 44 per cent of the Ohio crop was infested, a disastrously high percentage. By concerted safe sowing the farmers reduced this infestation by 1922 to an average of 11 per cent and the past year to a state average of 4 per cent. When infestation reaches 10 per cent, it begins to show in the check that the farmer receives for his crop.

Unanimity in the observance of safe dates will be necessary, say university and experiment station entomologists to do away with the trouble entirely. As little as 2 per cent of the wheat acreage of a county sown too early and found by the fly may serve to perpetuate the pest, they say.

All Balled Up. B. P. reports this spoonerism: "My brother works in a theater. He's a shien sifter. I mean he seems shifts—that is, he's a sifter of sheens, a seener of shifts. Oh, hang it, he's a shiftery seener—a sheenery—a shift seener—a shiftery—well, anyhow, my brother works in a theater."—Boston Transcript

Gov. J. C. ("Jack") Walton of Oklahoma, is facing impeachment at the hands of the state legislature for his use of troops in quelling the Ku Klux Klan. Above is shown a photographic reproduction of both sides of a membership card in the Ku Klux Klan, alleged by the Klansmen to be a record of the membership of Gov. Walton. ## BATTLING SIKI ISN'T NOTICED IN METROPOLIS

His Vivid Personality Goes Unwatched As He Parades Gotham Streets.

New York, Sept. 22. — That vivid personality known as Battling Siki, gay boulevardier, whose exploits abroad kept the cables chattering for months, peeped shyly around one corner of Broadway's life Friday for the first time since he landed in America some weeks ago. New York had forgotten the battling one. He seemed to have a positive conspicuous What with pet lions, a white, fixed fights and the informal socking of cafe patrons. Here he is just one loose-leaf among so many.

He may still have the publicity complex but the competition is keen and the battler's stuff entirely too rugged, not to say unrefined. Though he has appeared on the streets of New York, a subdued vision in pearl gray, he hasn't attracted the slightest notice. New York is surfeited with freaks. It wouldn't pay undue heed to an ordained bishop in a Navajo blanket.

Siki Is Actor Now

Meantime, Siki has been straight-arming the wolf from the door still by giving exhibitions in the Lafayette theater, an obscure playhouse uptown. He neglected to obtain permission from the Duke of Muldoon and has been summoned before a magistrate and in this way he broke into print for the first time in weeks. The incident got slightly more than three lines in the papers. They were a reguim for the battling Siki who once furnished "copy" by the hours for the news gaffers. Almost any negro pugilist in difficulties with the law would have received similar notice.

Siki has either lost his ability to attract attention or else the bizarre element in his makeup has been much exaggerated.

The drinking of obnoxious by the quart, the punching of waiters and other idiosyncracies of his eager abroad has not been evident here. Siki is behaving himself in public, what ever else he may be doing in private. Likewise, is his physical appearance a contradiction of what America first pictured him through photographs. In these he seemed, to be short and chunky but he is tall and lithe in reality and seems to be built for speed. He has tremendous shoulders and equally generous biceps, 16 inches by the tape.

It was these that gave him the leverage to knock Carpenter upside down and gain the world's light-heavyweight title.

Change Rules In Salem Golf Cup Tournament

The rules for the President's Cup tournament at the Salem Golf club have been changed so as to permit the members to play the 36 holes on two separate days, 18 on each day.

This change was made because so many found it impossible to get in 36 holes on one day.

The time for playing has been extended one week with the closing date, Sept. 30. This will give two Saturdays and one Wednesday afternoon. Players may go out in twos, threes or fours.

SCHAFERS-LISBON CLASH TOMORROW

The Schafer Independents will face on Sunday what is regarded, according to reports from Lisbon today, as the strongest professional team that ever represented the county seat.

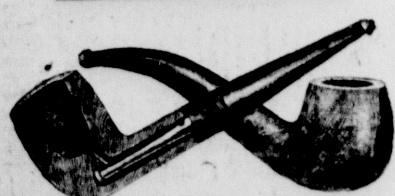

The Lisbon Pros have always had a team that was hard to beat and Salem team will have to step if they win. After the acid test last Sunday at Sebring the Independents can honestly boast that they also have a good team and because of that fact a hot battle is expected. The game starts at 2:30 at Centennial park.

Butte.

Butte is an important city but this Montana mining center is still spoken of as a mining camp, and it is probably the largest in the world with a population of about 80,000 when mine operations are going strong. About 15,000 men are employed in the mines. The total value of the output of these mines since they began to produce copper, zinc, silver, gold and lead has been about $1,500,000,000.

Young and Inexperienced.

When I was a bride I went into a shop to purchase socks for my husband. I was young and unaccustomed to buying men's wear, and was at a loss when the salesman inquired what size I wanted.

I didn't have the slightest idea, but suddenly I said, "I don't remember what size his socks are, but he wears a number fifteen collar."

The clerk and all other people in the shop burst out laughing.—Exchange.
